

Details of source countries of Article 126(a) and parallel import licenses and details of batch release sites of medicinal products with a marketing authorisation

In spite of the efforts made to deliver this information, the Medicines Authority cannot exclude inadvertent errors or omissions and the Medicines Authority cannot guarantee that it is complete, accurate and up-to-date. Therefore you can use this page exclusively for information purposes only. This information has no validity for legal effects and the Medicines Authority is not responsible for any unauthorised or illegal use of the information. The information contained in this list is for general information purposes only. This information may be updated several times and therefore there could be differences between the version of the information shown here and other information in the public domain supplied. We will investigate immediately any errors which are brought to our attention.

Date: 18th February, 2016