Has product reached patients/consumers?

This product may be offered back into the supply chain. At this point in time information is sparse as the investigation is at an early stage. Therefore we would like to urge you to be extra vigilant with regards to any supply of the above listed you may receive. EMA asked all Parallel Trader to notify any suspect offer to the National Competent Authority and the European Medicines Agency via the quality defect mailbox QDEFECT@ema.europa.eu. This is the first hospital products theft occurred in Italy after 1 year: the "Volcano case" investigation triggered extra verification on the EC chain that perhaps made more difficult the infiltration of illegal products, reducing the demand for hospital products. We will update the RA as soon as more information are made available.
